

Brandling Street, Roker, Sunderland

£175,000

A home of historical importance, being the birth place of James Alfred Wight, the veterinary surgeon and author of the James Herriot books between 1916 and 1995.

This spacious, three-bedroom, mid terraced home sitting along a quiet tree lined avenue, and just a short stroll from the sea front and award-winning Blue Flag beaches, offers an exciting opportunity to families and first-time buyers alike and is available with no upward chain.

The internal accommodation comprises an entrance lobby, reception hall, lounge, dining room, kitchen, rear lobby, and bathroom, whilst at first floor level there are three good sized bedrooms. The property externally has a large, enclosed courtyard to the rear with secure off-street parking and boasts many original architectural features which include, staircase skirtings, architraves, cornicing and fireplaces which work admirably with attractive modern-day fittings.

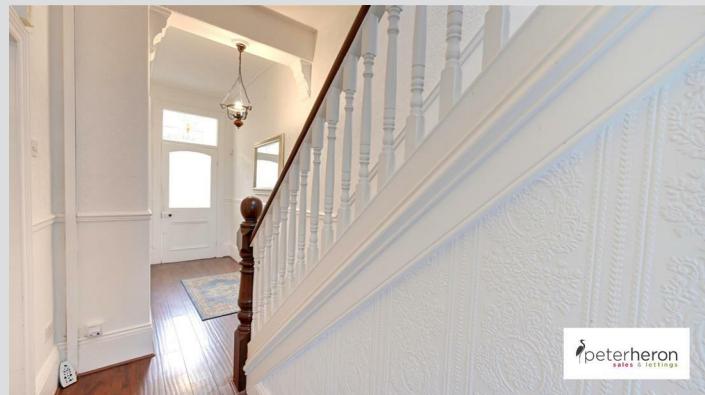

Benefitting from gas central heating and UPVC double glazing, the property is within easy reach of a superb range of coastal amenities including shops, schools, restaurants, bars, and Metro Stations, whilst major routes are also close to hand leading through to the wider Northeast conurbation.
